A FAVORED STATE.

Fortunate Farmers.

A State Public Commission says in a recent report that "five millions of dollars are now annually spent in Michigan by tourists when it should be ten times that amount," or fifty millions of dollars. It can thus readily be seen with hard surface trunk line roads what a vast amount of wealth will be scattered along great Michigan Highways, benefitting farmer and city man alike. It will come largely from outside sources and permanently remain within the state, adding greatly to its wealth, and the prosperity of its citizens. Fortunate indeed will be the farmer whose acres border on such a highway, bringing him many advantages and the best of prices at his own gate, also fortunate will be the cities or villages so located as their people will be the first to profit from the easy money of the automobile horde of spenders.

Steadily and surely "The Top of Michigan Trail," one of the coming great through highways, is being constructed across the state. At glance at the accompanying map will indicate immediately its character and importance. It will relieve the serious congestion prevailing or threatened on some of Wayne County's roads and open via Farmington and Howell a new outlet to and from the North for Detroit.

Rare Detroit Region.

It will be the shortest and most direct route for thousands of tourists entering the state, as most of them do, from the south and east, to reach from Toledo at Lake Erie's corner, that wonderful recreation region in the central upper part of the lower Peninsula, lying north of Saginaw Bay and south of the Straits of Mackinaw.

In this vast and alluring outdoors is to be found the finest of inland lakes, unexcelled trout streams, tasty and abundant wild fruits, and great forest reserves in which animal and bird life is now conserved, to be hereafter postulated for all time by state and federal authority. Not only is this trail the most practical route to what will be the Michigan's immense outdoor land, abounding in natural beauties for throngs of people during the hot period of every summer, but the road also traverses much rich farming territory and crosses the great manufacturing district of the lower Michigan Valley, affording transportation for products of field and factory from this favored part of Michigan to the shortest possible outlet to the Erie-Sam's highways, to the south and to the west.

It is a most attractive route as well from the fact it starts at the state line just south of Toledo. It follows the coast of the lake for a distance of about 100 miles, passing through the most beautiful scenery in the state, to the south and to the west.

Trip Over The Trail.

From Farmington or through the fertile lands of Monroe, Elia, Dundee and Azalia are passed to Milan on the County line.

Then Ann Arbor, the site of one of the world's greatest universities is the next interesting point reached with its students from everywhere, many of whom are now necessarily studying the ways of war instead of the art and science of peace.

North from Ann Arbor, the highway passes through a charming lake and forest region, skirting Whitmore, Long Lake and other beautiful pieces of water and passes through Brighton and Howell, both pretty prosperous towns.

At Howell, blessed with a clear bracing atmosphere, is the State Sanatorium, its numerous cottages, fine dairy herd, etc., etc., occupying 272 acres, well located on account of altitude, on the highest point in lower central Michigan. From Howell north to Saginaw the line is most direct, forty miles of the stretch being absolutely on north and south section lines without a break, probably the longest

CRAWFORD COUNTY'S QUOTA IS $8,000 FOR UNITED WAR WORK FUND.

Township Quotas Established, Based on Adult Population.

The United War Work campaign to raise $170,500,000 for the seven patriotic societies will open Monday, November 11 and continue to November 18. During this time Crawford county must contribute $8,000.

To raise the above amount the local committee, of which Harry Simpson is county chairman, has apportioned the quota according to the male adult population throughout the county, making the schedule as follows:

Frederic and Maple Forest combined $2,240.00
Lovells 260.00
South Branch 800.00
Beaver Creek 480.00
Grayling 4,800.00

The Red Cross organization is aiding in the soliciting campaign in each township. Pledge cards will be handed in due time and contributions may be made in cash or on parish payments. This is a campaign for funds and contributions must be made without ever receiving anything material in return; all subscriptions are out-right gifts. The cause is a most worthy one, as everybody of mature understanding must well know, so when the time comes let us save the time of the campaign workers by shelling out without any hesitations and go the limit the first time. 1. buying liberty bonds there was a hundred per cent value in investment with a large percentage of patriotism besides. If subscribing to the war work fund, it is purely patriotic. No man should be measured by the test, yet the tag of disloyalty will, in spite of one's intentions, adorn the individual who fails to give commensurate with his ability. We mean no disrespect toward anyone by the above statement, but we believe it is true.

Your money is needed and everyone knows it, so let's dig up and do it the first day and do it cheerfully. patriotically. If everybody who owns a bond and others who could not buy bonds will subscribe to the patriotic fund the first day, the work of the committee will be easy, and it should be, for they hardly get little thanks and many cuffsings for their efforts. Give the first day.

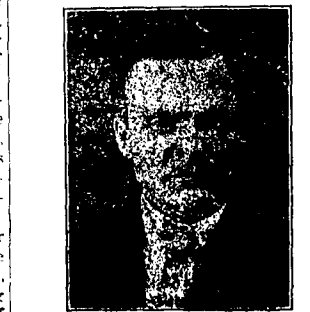

It may be well to state that they will be no more donation drives until next June when there is planned a National Red Cross drive. What you give this time is to be divided among eight funds, so give liberally, give as much as you would if you were called upon eight times, or eight times as much as you would give for one fund—Y. GERMAN ARMISTICE
TERMS COMPLETED

STIPULATIONS ARE NOW IN THE HANDS OF THE GERMAN GOVERNMENT.

BELIEVED GERMANY WILL SIGN

Germany Must Accept Armistice Terms Or Face a Dilemma of Her Armies On West Front.

Washington, Terms upon which Germany has obtained immediate armistice and the war were completed and signed in Paris. Secretary Lansing announced the fact in a brief statement adding only complete diplomatic harmony had been achieved by Allied and German conferences at Versailles.

It was stated authoritatively the terms, not yet given out for publication, follow closely those under which the armistice was rendered and passed out of the war, leaving Germany stand alone against the world.

The proposition in official circles was the stipulations would be in the hands of the German government in less than 24 hours. If they are accepted, a reply setting the issue of peace may also be received within that time.

Although the complete text of the historic Versailles document probably is only now on the cables for Washington, its substance has been reported upon fully and approved by the president before the final draft was prepared.

Subjected to analysis by military officers here, both Allied and American, terms of the armistice, which are said to be more drastic than those for Germany, are interpreted to mean absolute surrender. Nothing is left to the usual faith of the vanquished and no negotiations or halts are implied upon the victors. The officers of the German army, left alone, also must throw herself without reserve upon the mercy of the victors.

That the armistice is final or otherwise are all deferred to the peace conference for which the cessation of hostilities paves the way. The German appeal for an armistice was acceptance of peace terms already outlined by President Wilson and when the discussion starts the Allies and the United States will be in a position to dictate its results. In fact, that the real peace conference has been sitting at Versailles.

Judgment of army officers as to the situation on the western front in a military sense is that Germany must accept the armistice conditions or face a debacle of her armies. Signs of demoralization of German forces facing Franco-American lines have been evident for two days. The German official statement admitted an American break-through. If the breach is widened, German armies will be cut in half as effectively as were Austrian armies in Italy. They then may be crushed separately.

It is generally assumed the German government will receive armistice terms through Washington, as its request was received in that way. The Austrian case does not form a precedent, as the appeal to Washington was supplemented after collapse of the Austrian front by a direct application to General Diaz, Italian commander. Unless the situation of German armies forces similar action on the western front, however, it is assumed here the German case is being handled through diplomatic channels. The present Berlin civil government claims absolute authority over the army.

An attempt to apply the lessons of the Austrian armistice to Germany's situation brings out several points upon which military men base their forecast of the German terms. For one thing, it is regarded as certain complete evacuation of Alsace-Lorraine will be insisted upon, as well as occupation of the Rhine fortresses by Allied garrisons. Surrender of German submarines and substantial part of the high seas fleet and occupation of land defenses that protect German naval bases also is implied.

So far as the German army is concerned, it must go back into Germany, probably without the whole vast mechanism of war which it carried into France and Belgium. All big guns, tanks and aircraft, under the Austrian precedent, would be concentrated and left under direction of Allied and American armies.

It was pointed out, however, since Germany is the last of the central powers, when she surrenders, there will be no need to provide for employment of her military equipment by Marshal Foch. There will be no one left against whom to turn the guns. The terms for Germany, therefore, probably will show variation from Austrian conditions.

All federal reserve district over-subscribed, the Boston district reaching 126 per cent of its quota, and standing first in the percentage column. Richmond made 123 per cent and Philadelphia 119. The Chicago district made 110 per cent.

GEORGE BURKE Ford Sale and Service.

When the Engine Stalls on Dead Man's Curve!

THEY climb aboard their loaded truck at sundown, fifteen miles behind the lines. They rumble through the winding streets, out on the white road that leads to Germany!

The man at the wheel used to be a broker in Philadelphia. Beside him sits an accountant from Chicago. A newspaper man from the Pacific Coast is the third. Now they all wear the uniform of one of these organizations.

The road sweeps round a village and on a tree is nailed a sign: "Attention! L'Ennemi Vous Voit! The Enemy Sees You!"

They glance far up ahead and there, suspended in the evening light, they see a Hun balloon.

"Say, we can see him plain tonight!" murmurs the accountant from Chicago.

"And don't forget," replies the Philadelphia broker, "that he can see us just as plain."

The packing cases creak and groan, the truck plods on—straight toward that hanging menace.

They reach another village—where heaps of stone stand under crumpled walls.

Then up they go, through the strange silence broken only when a great projectile inscribes its arc of sound far overhead.

They reach a turn. They take it. They face a heavy incline. For half a mile it stretches and they know the Germans have the range of every inch of it. The mountain over there is where the big Boches' guns are fired. This incline is their target.

The three men on the truck bring up their gas masks to the alert, settle their steel helmets closer on their heads.

At first the camion holds its speed. Then it slackens off. The driver grabs his gear-shift, kicks out his clutch. The engine heaves—and heaves—and stalls!

"Quick! Spin it!" calls the driver. The California journalist has jumped. He tugs at the big crank.

"Wh-r-r-r-r-r-room!"

The shell breaks fifty yards behind. Another digs a hole beside the road just on ahead.

And then the engine comes to life. It crunches, groans and answers. Slowly, with maddening lack of haste, it rumbles on.

"Wh-r-room!" That one was close behind. The fragments of the shell are rattling on the truck.

Now shells are falling, further back along the road. And the driver feels the summit as his wheels begin to pick up speed.

Straight down a village street in which the buildings are only skeletons of buildings. He wheels into the courtyard of a great shell-torn chateau.

"Well, you made it again I see!" says a smiling face under a tin hat—a face that used to look out over a congregation in Rochester.

"Yep!" says the driver glancing at his watch. "And we came up Dead Man's Curve in less than three minutes—including one stall!"

Later that night two American boys, fresh from the trenches bordering that shattered town, stumble up the stairs of the chateau, into a sandbagged room where the Rochester minister has his canteen.

"Get any supplies tonight?" they ask.

"You bet I did!" is the answer, "What will you have?"

"What's those? Canned peaches? Gimme some. Package of American cigarettes—let's see—an' a cake of chocolate—an' some of them cookies!"

"Gosh!" says the other youngster when his wants are filled. "What would we do without you?"

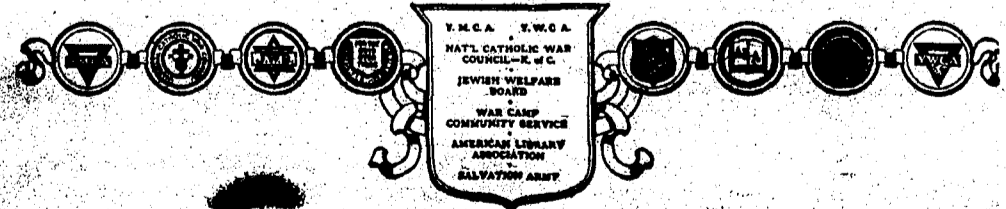

You hear that up and down the front, a dozen times a night—"What would we do without them?"

Men and women in these organizations are risking their lives tonight to carry up supplies to the soldiers. Trucks and camionettes are creeping up as close as any transportation is permitted.

From these people are carrying up to the gun-nests, through woods, across open fields, into the trenches. The boys are being served wherever they go. Things to eat, things to read, things to smoke, are being carried up everywhere along the line.

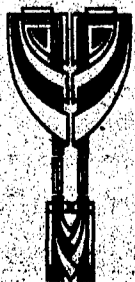

With new troops pouring into France, new supplies must be sent, more men and women by the hundreds must be enlisted. They are ready to give everything. Will you give your dollars to help them help our men?

GRAYLING, THURSDAY, NOV. 7th.

OLD RESIDENT PASSED AWAY.
Mrs. Maren Sofie Rasmussen, a resident of Grayling for about twenty-three years passed away at the home of Chris Hemmingson Friday, November 1st after a two weeks' illness. This lady had made her home with the Hemmingsons for the past twenty-one years, having come into their home shortly after the death of Mrs. Hemmingson, wife of Chris Hemmingson. She had reared the children, then small, to manhood and womanhood and they are a credit to their father and to themselves.

Mrs. Rasmussen was born in Langeland, Denmark, September 24, 1853 and came to America twenty-three years ago, coming directly to Grayling. The funeral services were held at the Hemmingson home Sunday afternoon at 2:00, Rev. Kjolhede officiating. Those from out of town who came to be in attendance at the funeral was the only son of Mrs. Rasmussen, John Rasmussen with his wife and son, Fred of Johannesburg; and Walter Hemmingson of Detroit.

Mrs. Alton Brott Died of Influenza.
The childhood and other friends of Mrs. Mary Saftred Brott were grieved to learn of her sudden and untimely death, that occurred at her home in this city last Sunday evening at eight o'clock. Deceased had been ill only eight days from influenza and pneumonia when death took place. Mr. Brott and two young daughters, Beatrice, age 9 and Calla, age 7, who mourn the loss of a faithful wife and loving mother, are also very ill with the same disease and unable to leave their beds.

Mary Saftred was born in Crawford county April 26, 1884. Almost her entire life was spent in Beaver Creek township, where she made her home with her grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Annis, having been left an orphan in infancy. On October 5, 1907 she was united in marriage to Alton Brott, and their wedded life had been very happy. Deceased was held in high esteem by her neighbors and friends; she was very kind-hearted and ever willing to assist those in need at any time, but most of all she will be sadly missed in the home where she was always to be found.

The remains were taken from the home Monday to the G. A. R. hall where they laid in state until burial which took place Tuesday afternoon. Rev. C. E. Doty of the M. E. church recited a short prayer at the grave in Elmwood cemetery. Mrs. Brott was a member of Crawford County Grange No. 934 and had taken part in most of its activities.

Mr. Brott seems to be having more than his share of trouble, as besides his wife he has lost his father, Geo. Brott and brother Elmer in the last year.

MICHIGAN SENATOR ENDORSES WAR WORK CAMPAIGN.
Mr. Wm. H. Crawford, Washington, D. C.
My Dear Sir:

From my understanding of the objects and aims of the United War Work campaign I unhesitatingly commend them. The work required in the war stricken regions of Europe is of stupendous importance and the relief which has been granted thus far has been one of the greatest evidences of the benefits of our christian civilization. There is, however, an unlimited amount of work to be done and every patriot will sacrifice for this cause. This service may not be so spectacular as that of battle but it is quite as essential and is importance cannot well be over-magnified.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) Charles E. Townsend.

FLOYD PHILLIP MOSHIER.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Moshier was made very sad last Sunday, when their youthful son Floyd Phillip passed away at about noon of that day, after a brief illness of influenza and broncho pneumonia. The lad was born April 1, 1908 being 10 years 7 months and 2 days old at the time of death. He was a pupil of the fourth grade and had many young friends who will be grieved to hear of the sudden taking away of their little schoolmate and friend. Other members of the Moshier family are also ill with influenza; one boy who is at Mercy hospital is having a hard fight to overcome the disease. Mr. and Mrs. Moshier, parents of the dead boy have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

Belmore and brother, Fred of Gibbstown, New Jersey, all came to be in attendance at the funeral.

Last week Carl Johnson resigned from Salling Hanson company's employ as traveling salesman, to enter the service. He was inducted into the aviation corps for limited service and sent to Jackson, Mich. Fred Martin, foreman of the R. Hanson & Sons mills, was also inducted for limited service in the aviation corps and left for Detroit Sunday night. Both these young men will work in the inspection of lumber that is used in the construction of aeroplanes.

Mr. and Mrs. James Olson are mourning the death of their youngest child, Neva Nina, age almost two years, which occurred at their home yesterday afternoon. The little tot had had whooping cough and last Sunday took ill with influenza, and yesterday with convulsions. Besides the parents two sisters and one brother survive the little girl, Joy, Ruth and Clayton. The funeral which will be private will be held tomorrow afternoon. The sympathy of many friends are extended to the bereaved parents in their loss.

Health Officer J. S. Harrington announces that up to Tuesday noon of this week there have been 130 cases of influenza reported in Grayling. 52 of these have been released and four deaths have occurred. Thus it will be seen that there are still many cases in the city. It is important that we do not get careless at this time. Until such time that the health officers of Grayling withdraw their orders of Grayling withdrawal their orders for closing and for children to remain at home, they should be given strict observance. These measures seem severe but they are intended for the good of the community.

Nick Schlotz after fifteen years of faithful service as manager of the Salling Hanson Company store, resigned and left there last week Thursday. He says that he is undecided just what he will do. He has several offers of good positions and will look them over. Unless he accepts one of the offers, it is rumored that he will open a new store in Grayling. Mr. Schlotz has been succeeded as manager of the Salling Hanson company store by Harold Rasmussen, who has been a clerk in that place for many years and is well known to the many customers of that store, and its strong prestige will surely be maintained with the latter at the head.

As we announced in last week's Avalanche the boxes for sending Xmas packages to soldiers in Europe had arrived. These packages when ready to send are to be inspected by members of the Red Cross that have been appointed to do this work. Mrs. J. E. Crowley of this city has charge of inspecting the boxes for Grayling; Mr. J. A. Kalahar for Frederic; Mrs. T. E. Douglas for Lovell and Mrs. B. J. Funcher for Eldorado. The packages must contain no explosives or perishables, and when filled must not weigh more than two pounds and fifteen ounces. The boxes lacking of making three pounds is for cord and wrapping. These boxes will be accepted by the Red Cross up to November 20th. It is necessary that they have a label on them that has been sent from Europe, otherwise they will not be accepted.

YOU ARE WISE IF—You pick your store with some care this season... Reports about the high price of wool and cotton has been ringing in everybody's ears for months—But remember this... These are days when natural advantage and foresight count most... We don't claim to be the only honest store in town. But do claim that we have been onto our jobs; that we have bought right; that the lines we handle are leaders; that any increase in price here is because the quality demands it.

QUALITY

The annual meeting of the County Board of supervisors passed off quietly and pleasantly with exception of the election of county road commissioners. Information from the attorney general's department stated that this board should be elected by the supervisors and not at the general election. When this matter came up a resolution was offered by Supervisor Scott endorsing James Williams of South Branch township. This was voted down. C. S. Barber of Frederic and Ralph Hanna of Beaver Creek were duly elected. For the third member there was a tie between T. W. Hanson of this city and John Love of Beaver Creek township. Ballot after ballot was taken with the same result. Finally the board took a recess for dinner and when they returned to their labors one of the members withdrew his vote to Mr. Hanson and he was declared elected. There was considerable discussion over the matter and one side fought with grim determination and one contingent swore they would never change their vote, but evidently somebody did.

The election of Mr. Hanson will give Grayling representation on the board, as it should have, as it pays about half of the county taxes, but Mr. Hanson's announcement that he was leaving Grayling for at least several years to come, made it questionable as to whether he should be chosen. The supervisors closed their session last Thursday night.

Miss Mary Collen, who has been reported very low with pneumonia at several times during the past week, is now on the gain and hopes are for a speedy recovery. Members of the Collen family were summoned to the bedside of their sister during the latter part of the week. Her sister Mrs. Roe of Detroit and brothers, Sam and George of Flint have been here for several days. Carl Collen who resides in Alaska had started for home on the ill-fated Coastline steamer that was shipwrecked and when nearly 400 people lost their lives. However word has been received from Mr. Collen that he escaped uninjured and is on his way. The steamer was making its last trip for the season.

Biliousness

WHEN you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. This inflames the stomach and causes nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. There is nothing better.

A FAVORABLE STATE

such tangent on any main highway in the state, giving speedsters their coveted opportunity to go some. Between the two points just named the road passes on a main street directly through Oak Grove, Cohocah, Byron and Lennon, with many other towns and cities directly adjacent to the trail, all tributary thereto. In The Saginaw Valley.

Then comes with its many varied industries, Saginaw in the heart of the great valley of its name and thru which a wealth of farm and manufactured products from north and west must ceaselessly pass. Here are found good hotels, well kept parks, a big auditorium, excellent streets, fine homes and ornamental grounds, making a most attractive city. Thence west and northward from Saginaw immediately begin features, that like Riley's poems appeal to young and old alike, and which will always cause at regular seasons of the year a continuous march of automobiles to and from the northland where is abundance of the elixir of life in the purest of air and water.

Whirling in today's horseless chariots along the pleasing high banks of the picturesque Tittabawassee river, Freeland is passed, then Midland, the greatest chemical city of its class in America, is reached. No similar industry in our entire country has helped the allies in winning the war to a greater extent than the big Dow Chemical works of Midland, with its many deep wells pumping heavy brine from the bowels of the earth to supply the necessary ingredients used in methods of modern warfare by our brave victorious boys in France.

Leaving this place with its mystic works, from the roofs of which many tall black smokestacks reach toward the sky, the automobilist flies still northward thru Midland and Gladwin counties, passing many fine farms on the way where not many years ago the writer also travelled, but on foot. Then only the axe of the lumberman or the howl of the wolf could be heard in the depths of the mighty pine forests that grew here in primitive grandeur.

Hope, Edenville, the interesting high palisades of the Tobacco river, busy Beaverton, and Gladwin, a thriving county seat, are passed and the four corners of Oberlin and Skeels left to rearward when the entrance into the real wild begins and at the edge.

The Deserted Village.

"Here as I take my solitary rounds Amidst the lingering paths and ruined grounds" is Meredith, a truly deserted village, fit subject for another Oliver Goldsmith poem or better yet a story from the pen of a Jack London or Stewart Edward White. It once was a thriving lumbering town where thousands of sturdy lumbermen were employed. Much important business was carried on. Several noisy logging railroads, dismantled long ago, united at this place and it was even electric lighted in its day. Now, here, where seldom a sound is heard, one human inhabitant resides, with denizens of the woods as his sole companions. It is in the very shadow of the extensive state forest which reaches far away to the northward almost to Houghton Lake. In this forest, thru which "the Trail" passes, are found birds in great variety, the red deer, a herd of elk and much other wild life which the state is endeavoring to preserve. Arriving at Houghton Lake, said to be the best fishing and duck water in interior Michigan, a number of sportsmen's club houses, the hamlets of Houghton Heights, Prudenville, and numerous other hunting and fishing resorts are found on its shores.

Wanigan is the Club location of a group of well known Saginawians and their friends. "The Mounds," at the mouth of a rapidly flowing stream called the "Cut" coming from Higgins Lake, is so named from the ancient Indian Mounds in the vicinity. At this favored location Great Lakes and Walleyed Pike, the gamey Black bass and other fish in plenty were undoubtedly caught by the aborigines centuries ago, as they are today. Nearby is St. Helen's Lake and just to the north Higgins Lake, with its deep crystal water, the beautiful queen lake of Michigan, surrounded by attractive cottages and easily reached by gravel road from the Village of Roscommon. Over the lakes named, with others in this region, millions of ducks pass in the spring and fall time on their journeys between the tropics and the arctic and affords the best of game shooting in season.

The trail from this place thru Grayling and on to Mackinaw will be described in our issue of next week.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

About Croup. If your children are subject to croup, or if you have reason to fear their being attacked by that disease, you should procure a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and study directions for use, so that in case of an attack you will know exactly what course to pursue. This is a favorite and very successful remedy for croup, and it is important that you observe the directions carefully.
